Shark Camp Week Five: The Age of Aquarius

Peace and love, baby! We had a totally GROOVY week as our time machine sent us back to 1968! We learned all about the era and had enjoyed a wide variety of hip activities. In Arts and Crafts we concentrated on creating tie dyed t-shirts. Campers had so much fun and the final product was bold and beautiful! Some of us also had the opportunity to watercolor and to make braided hippie headbands.

We ended the week with our own Woodstock Dance and Karaoke Festival. We grooved to the sound of the late sixties (What? No Hannah Montana?) and finished with an opportunity to take center stage and sing. Next week we will be heading back to the future!

Please Remember:
Next week is our last week of Shark Camp. Friday, July 24 is the final day of camp.
